SUMMARY

As a driven Freelance Content Writer with a focus on Physics at Adda247 and a background in SEO at BYJU'S, I specialize in creating engaging content that resonates with audiences and enhances online visibility. Currently, I am honing my technical skills in Advanced Computing at the Centre for Development of Advanced Computing, blending my passion for technology with my content expertise. With competencies in prompt engineering and a solid grasp of HTML5 and MVC frameworks, my education in Physics from Savitribai Phule Pune University serves as a foundation for producing scientifically accurate and compelling narratives. Our work not only informs but also inspires, reflecting a commitment to excellence and a deep understanding of the subjects I cover.
